

The Time Capsule book club guide

Possible discussion questions:

- Are you surprised by the similarities between life a hundred years ago and the way we live now?
- The story takes place during the great Flu Epidemic that killed an estimated 100 million people worldwide. Reading the novel, did it feel a little too familiar based on what was happening in 2020?
- Does it strike you as ironic or disappointing that many of the issues of 1917 are still with us today?
- What aspect of the story surprised you?
- Is there a character you'll remember? Why?
- How would you react if you traveled to the past and met some of your ancestors?
- For Hannah, it appears her presence in that time and place are pre-ordained. How do you feel about that?
- Is there a scene that might stay with you for a long time? Why?
- Does the book resonate with you?
